[00:06:48] OK, so what is your major and why did you choose it? Okay. Um, my major's architecture. And the reason I chose it is cause my dad is a construction worker and I've always been around like the construction sites.

[00:07:10] Ever since I was little, my dad would take me to the construction sites and I would work, and like his boss were always friendly with me and give me a job and like giving me money for helping them out even though I didn't do anything at the time.

[00:07:25] I started when I was, I'm pretty sure, eleven years old and I was helping out at the sites and seeing how a building gets made from like nothing to like a home for a person or whatever function it has. Made me fall in love with architecture cause being able to create something that doesn't serve just as like a shelter. But it provides an atmosphere for like families to grow up in. And so that's the reason I picked it.
